White Water Rafting

Pucon is surrounded by beautiful rivers that flow down from the Andes, the Trancura (Class III and IV) and Liucura (Class III). Both provide ideal conditions for aquatic sports such as rafting, kayaking or ducky. An exciting and fun adventure you can not ignore.

Raft the Raging Upper Trancura River

Why not enjoy a rafting adventure down Pucón's best whitewater river? 1.5 hours of pure adrenaline tackling Class 4 rapids, with several drops. The rapids' names say it all: Last Laugh, Devil's Throat, and Rapid of Fear. There are spectacular views of the majestic Volcano Villarrica and the smaller Volcano Quetrupillán up the valley. The guides are very experienced, allowing for a few surprises, but always staying safe while you raft this ferocious river. The roundtrip drive takes about 1.5 hours and then it's an estimated 1.5 hours of river time.

Requirements: Minimum age 15, you must be able to swim.

Season: October to April

Rafting the Lower Trancura

A slightly more tame experience than the raging upper river, but still exciting and fun! Glide through calm stretches of water admiring the beautiful nature around Pucón. Tackle the Class III rapids, including "The Fisher". This outing is perfect if you are seeking a less-extreme adventure. It could be a family outing, a beginner's introduction to rafting, or a warm-up for the more challenging rafting trip.

Requirements: Minimum age 8, you must be able to swim.

Rafting the Liucura

In the rainy months of our southern winter, and when the Trancura River is impassable, the Liucura River is an exciting and safe activity for adventure seekers. Discover and enjoy the beauty of the Ninth Region in this river of thermals going down its Class III rapids. The trip last 2 hours on the river, round trip 4 hours.

Requirements: Minimum age 15, you must be able to swim.

Season: May to October
